

Kenyon Probe Of Cox Slush Charge Sought

Demand Is Growing That Committee on Expenditures Ask for Proofs of $15,000,000 Fund

Witnesses' Names Wanted

Many Wonder Why Nominee Does Not Take the Initiative Himself

By Carter Field

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—A demand is growing here that the Kenyon committee on campaign expenditures call on James M. Cox for information and names of witnesses to substantiate his charges of a $15,000,000 slush fund, and also that Franklin D. Roosevelt be called on to give his information and names of witnesses as to his charges that the Republican slush fund was for $30,000,000.

Chairman George White, of the Democratic National Committee, boasted when in Washington recently, in the course of a brief dictated statement, that it was the votes of Democratic Senators which had continued this investigating committee's functions, so that it would run through the campaign.

Even Democrats here admit that the charges being made by the Democratic nominees would interest the country a great deal more if they were promptly followed by an investigation by this committee. The mere demand of either Cox or Roosevelt for the committee's investigation, it is admitted, would force the committee to act at once.

Expects Kenyon to Act

Incidentally there is some disappointment that Senator William S. Kenyon of Iowa, chairman of the committee, has not rushed into the situation by publicly calling on the Democratic nominees to produce or retract. Kenyon has never hesitated in the past to denounce the Republicans whenever he thought they were spending too much money. It was rather notorious, during the early days of the investigation into the pre-convention expenditures by candidates, that he collaborated more with the Democratic members of his committee, Senators James A. Reed, of Missouri, and Atlee Pomeroy, of Ohio, than with the Republican members, Senators Spencer, of Missouri, and Hiram Johnson, of California.

The Kenyon committee was called into being as a result of attacks made by Senator Borah and other advocates of the nomination of Hiram Johnson. It was then called into existence by a series of resolutions, which undoubtedly prevented the nomination of Governor Frank O. Lowden, although not charged at the Chicago convention. It was then called into existence by a series of resolutions, which undoubtedly prevented the nomination of General Leonard Wood. Certainly the committee has been in the forefront of virtually every newspaper in the country and reiterated from day to day.

The Kenyon committee, it is pointed out here, could force Cox and Roosevelt to get down to brass tacks, and as evidenced during the previous hearings of the committee, there would be plenty of publicity.

Wonder at Cox's Stand

Aside from the irritation against Senator Kenyon for going along with his committee on these Cox charges, there is some wonder that Governor Cox, instead of making blind charges, is not calling for the names of his running mate's contributors. It is being whispered around Washington that one of the causes for the mind of Governor Cox dwelling so much on campaign contributions is that some very liberal contributors to the Democratic campaign fund in the past have not been heard from as yet.

There are some of the men who were enthusiastic for McAdoo and who have not taken much pains to hide their disgust at the failure of the convention to nominate him.

Harding Queried on Aid For Disabled Soldiers

Chairman of League Charges Lack of Interest and Failure to Pledge Relief

Charles H. Gillin, chairman of the National Disabled Soldiers' League, 17 East Forty-first Street, has addressed an open letter to Senator Warren G. Harding asking the candidate whether he was approached before his nomination by delegations of disabled soldiers who asked that he intervene in their behalf and make them in obtaining legislation for the relief of themselves and their families.

The chairman also asks whether the candidate is aware that the Committee of Education of the League, through its representatives made recommendations for the relief of disabled soldiers that were never acted upon.

"You are no doubt aware," the letter says, "that I approached Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, on July 1, asking that a pledge of assistance be made by you in your speech of acceptance, and we now ask you point-blank the reason for your lack of interest and your refusal to make the requested pledge to America's disabled soldiers."

visitor at the Harding home, aided the nominee this morning in receiving a number of ball players and Civil War veterans, and the candidate, who was in the party, was asked to play a game of baseball. The team was made up of employees of the institution and there were half a dozen old soldiers and a couple of new ones in the party. The team was scheduled to play a game of baseball this afternoon. The Senator and Colonel Harvey were disappointed. The Sunday newspapers and the baseball team rang the bell. A reporter from the Senator's paper, The Marion Star, was on hand to introduce the visitors.

Team Short of Outfielders

Each of the players was presented as a "pitcher and a catcher" and a "shortstop." Apparently all of them could catch or pitch.

"Here's a fellow that catches," announced the nominee gleefully, as he shook hands with a heavily muscled young fellow, who was given the name of Sandusky, Ohio. "Pshaw, I've got a finger like that," said Colonel Harvey, and held up a crooked digit.

Young Minick turned his attention to a stockily built young fellow named Minsk, whose blond hair and eyebrows were white by contrast with his sunburned face.

"Why, one of my earliest recollections is of a piano and organ teacher named Minsk, over in Morrow County."

Young Minick, who is an organ teacher as a cousin of his father, and Senator Harding said:

"Shake again, you recall old times." The remark was directed at an individual who came next he asked, "Are you a catcher, too?"

Might Use a Mascot

"I'm a mascot," was the reply. "If you're a good one I might use you," said the senator. Then to Colonel Harvey he said:

"We used to have a pretty good ball team here in Marion. We were in the State League. We had a crackerjack catcher named Jim who caught for us for $5,000. He never showed any thing in fast company, but we owners of the club declared a dividend with the money."

Among the old soldiers was one veteran minus a leg and hobbling along on a crutch. With him the nominee had an earnest conversation about conditions in the soldiers' home and Gettysburg, and they agreed that Grant was a great soldier, after which the ball players started for the scene of their contest with the Marion team. The contest was a motion picture performance, headed by Al Jolson, who was making a pilgrimage from Broadway to the front porch, will arrive in a special car Tuesday morning. They will remain all day, breakfast at the Marion Club, parade to the Harding home in automobiles, listen to a speech by the Senator, and then go to White Oaks farm, three miles out of town, for luncheon. There is to be a flag-raising ceremony there and stunts by the performers and possibly the nominee.

Not Enough Bulls For Fight,

No Spanish Town Matines

CASTELLON, Spain, Aug. 22.—Villagers of Canete-la-Real have mobilized against the municipal government because the Mayor provided an insufficient number of bulls for a bullfight held in connection with a local festival.

The mutineers unlocked a corral, freeing the bulls which had been provided. The animals dashed through the streets of the village, injuring several persons and causing considerable property damage before they fled to the mountains.

Cox Asks Hays To Tell All of Fund Details

Wants to Know How Many Subdivisions Country Is Divided Into, Extent and Quota of Each

Requests Reply at Once

Declares Chairman Made No Denial of Charge That 15 Millions Was Sought

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 22.—A request on Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, for information regarding Republican campaign funds was made to-night by Governor James M. Cox, who came here today from Columbus.

Governor Cox declared that Mr. Hays's statement yesterday regarding Republican funds was not a reply to the Governor's charges that the Republicans were raising a fund of $15,000,000.

"I was very much gratified," said Governor Cox, "but Mr. Hays made his response, but as I read his statement it's no denial. He says the irregular preliminary 'estimate' is $3,000,000. That doesn't mean anything. I want to know how many subdivisions the country was divided into, the extent and the quota of each subdivision."

Governor Cox said that in his opinion the country was divided into subdivisions of the size of the counties of the United States. He said that in his opinion the country was divided into subdivisions of the size of the counties of the United States.

"I spoke publicly often about these quotas and the public is entitled to this information. The Senate investigating committee will insist on it, and why not have it now?"

Governor Cox said that in his opinion the country was divided into subdivisions of the size of the counties of the United States. He said that in his opinion the country was divided into subdivisions of the size of the counties of the United States.

"I support his charges that $15,000,000 was the Republican 'low mark,' with the sky apparently the limit."

Read Board Meets Today

The Governor has received a telegram from Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, of the Senate investigating committee, asking for information regarding the committee's report on the charges that the committee would resume its inquiry to-morrow at Chicago and that the Governor would be given "careful" and thorough investigation.

That "a great deal of money is to be expected outside of the Republican National Committee" fund was stated by Governor Cox in commenting on New York newspaper reports of subscriptions to an alleged history.

William Barnes Jr., New York Republican leader, Governor Cox also made a statement to-night at a program sent to W. P. Harding, governor of the Federal Reserve Board at Washington, requesting that steps be taken to aid in moving the fall crops.

"My attention has been directed in several parts of the country," said the Governor's telegram, "to a condition which I think the Federal Reserve Board should take care to correct. It is a condition which can be corrected with reference to the grain and other crops. Farmers allege that grain elevators are unable to procure sufficient credit to take in the season's yield."

Drys Threaten Fight on Wet State Republicans

Anderson Serves Warning on Hays of What Anti-Saloon League Proposes

William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, in an open letter to Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, serves warning that the dries will not stand for wet control of the Republican state machine. His letter says in part:

"The Anti-Saloon League in this state is not trying to defeat the Republican party as such. We do intend to send this wet state machine to the junk pile regardless of how long it takes and are not afraid to take the risk of accepting what seems to be a good chance to do it this year. The beauty of a moral issue is, no matter what happens its exponents gain strength and only they fight when a fight ought to be made. While not indulging either Harding or Cox, the fact remains that as a matter of state strategy we are not interested in seeing Tammany crushed in Washington any more than we are interested in seeing this wet Republican bunch again in the saddle at Albany."

Ohioan Told by Leaders to Go Limit in Placating Irish Voters on League

Tammany Hall has seized the opportunity presented by the visit of Governor Cox of Ohio, the Democratic Presidential candidate, to the Police Field Day celebration at Sheephead Bay next Saturday to annex the demonstration to Governor Alfred E. Smith's boom for reelection.

Governor Smith, Mayor John F. Hyland, Police Commissioner Enright, "Big Bill" Edwards, Collector of Internal Revenue, and John M. Riehl, president of the National Democratic Club, will be on the stand with Governor Cox, and Governor Smith will introduce the Presidential candidate.

Charles F. It is planned to make the greeting for Governor Cox cordial and impressive, but it also is planned to make the demonstration for Governor Smith collapse anything that has gone before.
